The Next 100

The wealth of wonderful golf throughout the UK & Ireland is so extensive, that selecting this year's Next 100 was harder than ever. Such is the strength in depth and variety of our courses old and new, that we could have easily defied the laws of mathematics and placed 150 into this next tier. There are several changes since 2012, as the list contains those that made way for our new Top 100 entries as well as a number of courses that rose in profile and quality during the period. As always, we are very keen to hear your suggestions, so please let us know about courses you feel are worthy of consideration.
